If Dewey be nominated on the ticket with Bryan, as a sea fighter he ought to command the floating vote.

There are thirty-three contesting delegations before the National Republican Committee in Philadelphia, the majority of them from the South, and colored, of course.

Ah Ohio man has gone crazy because he believed a lot of people were chasing him to make him run as a candidate for Vice President with McKinley. That was provocation enough.

Insanity in London has greatly increased lately. The British got pretty badly rattled over the Boers, and the sudden transitions from extreme depression in defeat to wild hilarity in victory were too much for them.

A blind man who lives in Marietta, Ohio, has made a record. He fell from a railroad bridge and alighted on a pile of rocks forty-five feet below, with only a sprained wrist as the result. How the rocks stood it is not stated.

Some of the old Spanish cannon which are being presented to towns in this country are said to be loaded. Well, if they are no more dangerous than they were in the hands of the Spaniards that won't matter. Ordinarily it is the "unloaded" gun that does the mischief.

Chicago's latest census shows a population of 2,001,000. The 1,000 was put in doubtless to remove the suspicion that there had been any padding. But it is a little remarkable that the census men didn't find a few hundred more, to put in the place of the last ciphers.

A rich widow in New York after wearing her weeds a year, married a 23 year old chap, who had been set up in business by her deceased husband. She is nearly three times as old as her husband. She has a son who is much older than his mother's new husband. He objects not only to having such a kid for a step pa, but also to the $200,000 transfer to him of real estate by the old lady. He considers these good grounds for objection, aside from the fact that his step-father's name is Smith.

A scheme for running an electric express train, on the one rail principle, from Manchester to Liverpool has been under consideration by a committee of Parliament. Speed was the thing desired. It was testified that such a train could be run with safety at a speed of 130 to 150 miles an hour, but it would be hard to put on brakes to check up within 500 yards when running at a speed of over 110 miles. For this and other reasons the committee reported against it.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS MEMORIAL SERVICE

Will Be Held To-night at Grace M. E. Church—Knights Will Assemble at Castle Hall.

Pythian interest to day is centered in the Memorial service in honor of departed brethern at Grace M. E. Church this evening, the programme for which service including the annual sermon by Rev. A. P. Tyer, of Durham, was published in yesterday's STAR. In an official notice published this morning Pythians are requested to assemble at Castle Hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock from whence they will march in a body promptly at 8 o'clock to the church for the services. Mr. W. F. Robertson, of Stonewall Lodge No. 1, will act as Chief Marshall and he will have for his aides Col. Walker Taylor, Clarendon Lodge No. 2; Mr. John Haar, Germania Lodge No. 4; and Mr. J. C. Morrison, Jefferson Lodge No. 61.

The committee of arrangements is composed of Mr. J. D. Kelley, Stonewall Lodge No. 1; Mr. J. T. King, Clarendon Lodge No. 2; Mr. F. H. Krahnke, Germania Lodge No. 4, and Mr. E. H. Munson, Jefferson Lodge No. 61.

Rev. Mr. Tyer, who is pleasantly remembered as former pastor of Grace church, arrived last evening from Durham and is being entertained at the home of Mr. J. T. King. He will also be the guest before returning of Mr. H. M. Foard and others of his old congregation. This morning Mr. Tyer will preach at the usual hour for Rev. J. N. Cole, pastor of Grace church.

Of the four lodges in the city only two lost members by death during the past fiscal year. Stonewall Lodge lost Capt. W. S. Warrock, W. M. Avant, C. M. Harris and A. F. Lucas. Of the ranks of Jefferson Lodge Francis R. Hawes died at Omaha, August 11th 1899, Col. Thos. W. Strange died in Wilmington, August 22nd 1899, and P. B. Manning, Esq., passed away at Richmond February 20th 1900. The custom of holding the memorial service in honor of departed members has been observed for several years. The Pythians cordially invite all friends of the order or of the members who have passed away, to attend the services to-night.

NEWBERN WILL COME.

Mr. A. H. Bangert Here Looking to the Interest of His Company—Other Tournament Items.

Mr. A. H. Bangert, manager of the Newbern Steam Fire Engine Co., No. 1, was in the city yesterday morning arranging for the accommodation of his company during the Firemen's Tournament in July. He will bring 36 men and Mr. Bangert has secured board for them at Mrs. J. J. Kelley's, corner Market and Third streets. He also arranged to hire a good pair of horses during Tournamen Week to pull their engine.

Besides the company aboved mentioned, the "Atlantics" of Newbern, will also send down the same number of men. In fact, the entire Newbern Fire Department, composed of the following will be here: Two engine companies, two horse hose wagons, two hand reel teams, two junior reel teams, and a horse hook and ladder company.

Mr. W. C. VonGlahn received a letter from Capt. Jas. D. McNeill two days since saying Newbern will be here in a body and will have a tournament among themselves. He also stated that so many companies are coming he has about quit sending out invitations. He said that since his return to Fayetteville he has assurances that several Virginia companies will be here. Capt. McNeill says the tournament will be the largest ever held in the South and it will be a tremendous success.

The Penn Mutual.

Life insurance is recognized in latter years as as one of the safest and most economical legacies that can be left for the protection of friend or family and another argument very reasonably advanced in this branch of protection in a well established and responsible company is its bearing upon the financial standing and responsibility of the insured. Insurance was never so popular as to-day for these and various other reasons which argument will disclose. The Penn Mutual, of Philadelphia, is advertised this morning by Mr. W. F. Robertson, local agents, and Col. Walker Taylor, district agent, as one possessing merits worthy of the consideration of a prospective patron of any life insurance organization. The advertisement speaks for itself and is commended to the investigation of the reading public.

Excursion Thursday Night.

A pleasurable event is assured in the excursion by the Second Regiment Band next Thursday night to the pier and return, for which the fare will be only 15 cents for the round trip. The trip will, of course, be on the steamer Wilmington, leaving the city at 7.15 o'clock, and there is no coming event for the week that promises so much real enjoyment proportionate to the cost as this excursion. The band will give a concert aboard, and refreshments will be served by the ladies at city prices.

See your agent for schedule and other details for the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia, June 19th, by the Seaboard Air Line Railway.

THE FREE RURAL DELIVERY SYSTEM.

Possibility That the Service May Be Established in New Hanover—The Special Agent Here.

Mr. W. C. Latimer, of Belton, S. C., Special Agent of the Rural Free Delivery Service of the U. S. Postoffice Department, arrived in the city yesterday morning to look into the practicability of the establishment of an experiment route in New Hanover county. Under the increased appropriation for free rural delivery the service will be established on ten or more routes in North Carolina and upon recommendation of Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy Mr. Latimer is making a tour of the Sixth District investigating points where the innovation can be most practically and economically established. He will remain in the city for several days and will no doubt confer with a number of Wilmington citizens relative to the proposed routes in New Hanover county. When he has completed his investigation, Mr. Latimer will make a recommendation to the Postoffice Department and the officials will be largely if not wholly governed by his report upon conditions favorable to the scheme.

One of the routes will be probably about twenty miles in extent and will give the free delivery service to about 100 families, the number of course being determined largely by the density of population. The STAR would suggest that the Chamber of Commerce hold a special meeting and appoint a committee to assist Mr. Latimer in gathering the data regarding New Hanover required for an intelligent recommendation to the department.

Mr. Latimer is spending Sunday at Wrightsville Beach but he will return to the city Monday and will probably conclude his "survey," so to speak, in two or three days. He is a son of Congressman Latimer, of South Carolina, and is eminently qualified for the position of making the investigations required by the department.

HISTORICAL MONOGRAPHS.

Mr. James Sprunt Has Made Possible the Publication of Some Interesting Sketches of N. C. History.

The STAR is in receipt of the first of a series of State historical publications, which will be issued under name of "James Sprunt Historical Monographs," under the auspices of the University of North Carolina.

Dr. Kemp P. Battle in writing an introduction to the first volume, which treats in a very comprehensive manner the "Personnel of the Convention of 1861," and the "Legislation of the Convention of 1861," says:

"By the generosity of Mr. James Sprunt, of Wilmington, the University is enabled to begin a work, which, we are confident will be much appreciated by the enlightened people of the State. This is the periodical publication of monographs designed to elucidate the history of North Carolina."

"The University has in its possession much documentary material of a private and public nature, which has never been published. The North Carolina Historical Society has likewise a good supply, interesting and valuable, which has not seen the light of day. Efforts will be made to secure additions from the fortunate possessors of similar stores. It is confidently expected that the officers, students, alumni and friends of the University will be able to make contributions to our knowledge of the past, which students of our State history will be glad to read and to preserve."

The first of the volumes contains 144 pages, is excellently printed and handsomely bound. The subject matter is treated in an admirable way by Prof John Gilchrist McCormick and Dr. Battle.

Tournament Rates.

The foreman of the Greensboro Southside Hose Company has spent the past two days in the city making arrangements for his organization here during the Firemen's Tournament.

Chief Schnibben especially asks that all who have contributed to the Tournament fund will send in checks for the amount of their subscription at once or leave them at their respective places of business so that they can be secured by the committee on its rounds this week.

The Clarendon Water Works Company will this week install a new hydrant for the races on Market between Seventh and Eighth streets.

Mr. Evans was once a member of the Board of Commissioners of Brunswick and is well informed on the political status there. He says that several Populists have expressed themselves to him as in favor of the bill.

THE PAST WEEK AT WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH.

Opening Week Augurs Well for Success of the Season—Saturday Night Dance at Seashore.

The week's festivities at Wrightsville Beach were given a fitting finale last night in the very enjoyable Saturday night hop at the Seashore Hotel, which was the first of a series of delightful week end events that have made the Seashore famous in seasons past. A large number of couples participated, and the ball during the night presented a lovely spectacle. The music was by Prof. Miller's orchestra, and was up to the usual high standard of excellence of this organization. The participants were composed of cottagers on the beach and Sound and a large number of Wilmington young people, who went down in the evening and returned on the late train last night.

The beach is now thickly populated; many of the city folk have moved down for the Summer and, notwithstanding the storm last October and the terrible havoc wrought, the season promises to be one of the most brilliant in years. New buildings are prominent on every hand and the conveniences have been largely increased.

The inaugural ball at the Seashore a week ago last night, the splendid opening of the Carolina Yacht Club on Wednesday night, and numerous yachting and other parties during the past week, combined to make it exceedingly pleasant for the hundred and more young people and visitors who had occasion to spend their time at this popular resort.

Among the most noteworthy arrivals during the week were, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Harris, Mr. W. R. Burwell, Charlotte; Mr. Charles E. Hicks, New York; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dockery and Misses Nettie and Fannie Dockery, Rockingham; Miss Sallie Clair Bass, Warsaw; Mr. E. F. Lowndes and Mr. R. S. French, Charleston; Mr. Charles E. Hicks, New York; Mr. R. C. Fields, Norfolk; Mr. Marion Cobb, Durham; Mr. John Williams, Taunton, Mass; Mr. Allan B. Greenough, Boston; Mr. Fred Howard, Baltimore; Mr. W. J. Harty, Charlotte; Mr. D. E. McGad, Atlanta; Mr. J. H. Orrell, Jr.

WILL UNVEIL MONUMENT.

Woodmen of the World Will Observe Appropriate Exercises in Honor of Sovereign Wm. Ulrich.

Live Oak Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World, will unveil a monument to the memory of Sovereign William Ulrich, who died last December, in Oakdale cemetery at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon, and the following interesting and appropriate programme will be observed:

Song, "Nearer My God to Thee."
Prayer by chaplain, Rev. J. H. Hall.
Quartette, "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away."—Woodward.
Lodge exercises.
Funeral anthem, "Among the Dead Our Sovereign Sleeps."
Reading of poem, "Why Should the Spirit of Mortal be Proud?" by John J. Fowler.
Quartette, "One Day Nearer Home."—Hastil.
Lodge exercises.
Oration, William J. Bellamy.
Quartette, "Savior, When Night Involves the Skies."—Shelley.
Benediction by Rev. J. H. Hall.

The following will compose the choir: Miss Carrie White, soprano; Miss Kate Stolter, alto; Mr. W. W. Hodges, tenor; Mr. A. S. Holden, baritone; Mr. A. H. Yopp, accompanist.

Members of the order will assemble in the Lodge at the cemetery instead of their lodge room. This is done to avoid the long march in the heat.

INDIA FAMINE FUND.

Mr. W. M. Cumming, who has twice before contributed liberally to the fund for the relief of the starving in India, yesterday handed the STAR $10 more as a further donation to the cause. His original proposition was to make this contribution when the sum being raised by the STAR reacheh $100, but yesterday he stated that the figure had so nearly approached the designated amount that he would make the gift anyway. The amount previously acknowledged for the purpose was $84.42 and with Mr. Cumming's contribution in now reaches $94.42 and after to-morrow the offer opened by this paper to forward all contributions will be closed and the amount now in hand will be remitted.

Federal Court.

The United States Court will be convened here by Judge Purnell to-morrow morning and will probably last well nigh into the second week. Cases in admiralty will probably be heard during the first days of the term and these are for the most part of little interest to the public. After disposition of these the usual complement of "retailing cases" will come up. The docket is rather long this term. It was at first expected that Judges Simonton and Goff would spend the week at the beach during the term but it is now believed that they will not come.

Death of Colored Man.

Harry Howard, an aged and respected colored man, died last night at his home in the city and will be buried at 4 o'clock with funeral from St. Luke's Church. He was engaged for a number of years as sawyer at the mill of Messrs. Northrop & Cumming, and was the father of James Howard, janitor at the Custom House.

LOSING GROUND.

We have frequently quoted utterances by Northern men on the race problem showing how sentiment has changed on that question in the North and how the negro as a citizen has fallen in public estimation. As showing that this is not the case in one section more than another we quote the following from the Boston Advertiser, published in a city where the negro was some years ago more or less idolized. It says:

"The negro never occupied so poor a status in the Northern States, his outlook was never so meagre, as now. We do not refer solely to his political status, but to all the avenues of elevation he occupies a distinctly worse position than he did thirty years ago. Once in a while, the negro is recognized; once in a while, he gets a petty office, or a tolerated position in some educational qualification or philanthropic work. But, as a whole, the position of the colored man is distinctly retrograded, and the outlook for the individual colored youth is poorer now than then. He may get better wages here and there, he may wear better clothes, he may lay up a little more money, but, all in all, the young colored man, or the young colored woman starting in life to-day, in the Northern States, has absolutely as well as relatively, a poorer show than he had when the Civil War closed."

This is in the nature of a confession from a leading paper in a section of the country where there was up to a few years ago certainly no prejudice against the negro, which is not common to the Anglo-Saxon race. In no part of this country was there as much partiality for the negro, and in none was there as good a showing for him in the battle of life. But the negro whom the New Englanders saw and fell in love with was not the negro as he is in life, but in fiction; not the negro that God made, but the negro that Harriet Beecher Stowe made, the negro endowed with loveable traits and clothed in the raiment woven by her fanciful brain. She and other writers of negro fiction created the negro that sentimental, impressionable people in the North raved over, until the "irrepressible conflict" was engendered and hundreds of thousands of lives and thousands of millions of treasure were sacrified for this negro of fiction.

But contact with the real negro, the negro of flesh and blood and negro weakness and passions, dissipated the delusion until thousands of his former worshippers now feel as the writer of this extract from the Advertiser does. They have discovered the reality and the reality has lost ground.

But this is as might have been expected. Previous to 1861 there were few negroes in the North compared to the numbers that are there now, and those few were better than the average negro now is. But after the war between the States, the negroes believing they would find a fraternal welcome and an earthly paradise among the people who had talked so much about them, went there in considerable numbers and have been doing so ever since until there are thousands of them in cities where there were but few.

While there were some good negroes, there were more bad ones in those migratory streams, and they became worse there because they thought they would have more liberty and their conception of liberty was the right to do as they pleased and lead as trifling and worthless and riotous lives as possible. Their circumstances compelled them to crowd into close quarters, in parts of the cities which were given up to them because of the objection of the better class of white people to live in proximity to them, and the result was license without check when they could evade the law and a conspicuous place for the denizens of those quarters on the criminal rolls. That is the story in every town in the North where the negroes have located in large numbers, and this it is that has caused the revolution of sentiment in the North on the negro.

It is a case of mutual disappointment. The white people of the North who professed to think so much of the negro had wrong conceptions of him and expected too much from him. They thought he was a white man in a black skin, and were disappointed when they found their ideal all wrong, and that the imaginary white man with a dark skin was dark all the way through. And the negro was doubtless disappointed in the white man for he imagined that the white man up there was a different kind of a man from those he was accustomed to, and that there were no distinctions on account of the color of the skin or the kink of the hair, and when he found that he had to hustle for himself and that things didn't come his way without effort on his part, he waked up to his delusion, and he began to hustle for himself in his own way, which was a poor way at best, for there are not as many avenues open to him in the North, even when willing to devote himself to honest toil, as there are in the South, where he has less competition in the fields of labor and less prejudice to contend against.

When Booker T. Washington visited Europe he expressed the opinion that the negroes in the South were better off and had better opportunities than negroes have in Europe, and we have no doubt that if he compared the conditions he would express the same opinion as regards the negro in the North and in the South. The negro of fancy was one thing in the North, the negro of fact another. It is the negro of fact that it and the whole country has to deal with now. The South deals with him better than the North does, because she knows him better and if left to herself will deal with him right and settle the race problem right, right and well for the white man and the negro.

AND STILL THEY COME

There is scarcely a day that we do not see the announcement that some more or less prominent Republican or Populist has declared his purpose to support the Constitutional Amendment. There was a meeting at Popular Springs, in Moore county, several days ago where one of the strongest speeches for the Amendment was made by Mr. Henry Makepeace, a prominent Republican and a United States Commissioner at Sanford. He declared that the time had come when white men should unite and stand solid for the Amendment. He is a man of influence and it is said that his speech will have a good effect among his fellow white Republicans of that county.

There are the independent, thoughtful outspoken Republicans, who do not live nor expect to live by office-holding, who say what they think, and there are many more who think but say little, because they do not wish to make themselves conspicuous, nor to subject themselves to the remarks or annoyance of the extreme partisans, and these while saying nothing will quietly vote for the amendment, for being tied to the colored brother was never entirely to their liking. If they desire to remain Republicans they would feel much more comfortable in a white Republican party than in a black and tan combination. This vote will be a considerable factor at the next election.

The fact that Gen. Roberts has made several engagements for himself in London in September, and has ordered his London house to be put in readiness by the first of the month is construed as an indication that he expects to wind up his business in Africa before that. But engagements with the Boers in the meantime may break into these arrangements.

INTERROGATIVE LYING.

There are several ways of lying, without coming down to the blunt, downright lie that might be run down and exposed. One of the common ways of lying with the Republican machine managers, when they think it will accomplish as much or more than the point blank lie out of the whole cloth, is the interrogative lie, which is asked in reference to something that had never happened, creating the impression that it had. The following, which we clip from the Greensboro Record, is a sample of this kind:

"Our Republican friends are not letting any opportunity pass to try to make a vote. And when an opportunity does not offer, they make one. For instance, Chairman Holton was riding on the train the other day when he asked one of the train hands if he had received one of Col. A. B. Andrews' last circulars. The man said he had not and did not know what was meant.

"'You haven't seen his circular about the amendment?' asked Mr. Holton.

"'No, sir, I have not; what does it say?'

"Of course the chairman did not commit himself by saying that it contained anything specific, but answered it by asking more questions.

"'You mean to tell me you have not seen a circular from Col. Andrews in which he says if the amendment is carried that it will bankrupt the rail roads of the country?'

"Of course the train hand was all curiosity and he proceeded to discuss it with the first man he met. This was exactly what Holton wanted: if the men get to talking it, the report will soon be out that such a circular has been issued by Col. Andrews.

"Such acts show a willingness to do almost anything to make a vote. A drowning man will catch at a straw."

Of course the impression intended to be made by this inquiry was that Col. Andrews had issued a circular declaring that the adoption of the amendment would ruin the railroads, upon which so many men are dependent for a living, when in fact no such circular had been issued, and Holton knew it. He thought that was a smart trick, no doubt, and it was, but it was as mean as it was smart, for it was not only a base trifling with the truth, and an unscrupulous misrepresentation, but an equally base imposition on people who, not knowing the man, might not suspect that they were being made the victims of a mountebank's trick.

A BLUFF THAT DIDN'T WORK.

At Lenoir, in Caldwell county, last Wednesday, when Chas. B. Aycock, our candidate for Governor, concluded his speech, a Mr. J. A. Crisp, who is a prominent Republican, and, we believe, postmaster in the town, who says he is in favor of white rule, said to Mr. Aycock that if he would sign an affidavit that the Amendment would not disfranchise illiterate white men, because of their illiteracy, in other words that the "grandfather clause" meant what it says, he would obligate himself by affidavit to vote for the Amendment.

As Mr. Crisp is a prominent Republican this may have been intended for a bluff, or to test whether Mr. Aycock really believed what he asserted in his speech, but if so it was a signal failure for then and there in the presence of a magistrate the affidavit was drawn up and duly sworn to and signed by Mr. Aycock, Therefore there was nothing left for Mr. Crisp to do but keep his part of the agreement and sign the affidavit to vote for the amendment, which he did. After this no one need suspect Mr. Aycock of insincerity in his discussions of the amendment, and no Republican office holder who doesn't want to vote for it will repeat the proposition of Mr. Crisp.

The New York Sun has it down fine. In discussing the suggestion of nominating Dolliver, of Iowa, for Vice President with McKinley, conceding all that is claimed for Dolliver, it concludes, in the event of his nomination, with the following conundrum: "What would become of the electoral vote of the Empire State, the vote of which is going to decide this election?" That's getting it down pretty fine for a stalwart organ like the Sun.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— With Foraker, of Ohio, to nominate McKinley, of Ohio, and Hanna, of Ohio to dictate the terms of the platform on which McKinley, of Ohio, is to stand, there will be little left for the delegates from the other forty-four states to scramble over, except the vice-presidential nomination.—Atlanta Journal, Dem.

—— Gen. Otis declares that "there will be no more real fighting in the Philippines," but adds that "we cannot get along with any fewer troops than we have in the islands at present for a number of years." The arms now in the islands, it is noted, numbers 65,000 men, or three times the number actually employed in whipping Spain. It begins to appear somewhat as if Gen. Otis does not know a war when he sees one.—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

—— "There is a tide in the affairs of men," etc. Had Admiral Dewey given the least encouragement to the Democrats (or Republicans) on his landing from Manila the situation might now have been very different. He let the flood tide pass by him, never to return. The enthusiastic receptions tendered him on his trips throughout the country are demonstrations of the esteem in which he is held by the people; but in the great crowds that assemble to do him honor as Admiral and a naval hero there is not a vote to nominate him for the Presidency.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

What Makes Beauty?

Beauty is made or marred by the blood. When the blood is impure, the cheeks grow sallow, the eyes dull, the hair loses its luster. When the blood flows through the veins in a pure, rich current, the eyes sparkle, the skin is clear, the complexion beautiful. Women who use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, find that it is a genuine beautifier. By purifying and enriching the blood it puts a bloom on the cheek and a brightness in the eye, which tell the story of perfect health.

"Having been left weak from fever last October, I was under the doctor's care here," writes Mrs. Alice E. Casebier, of Crawford, Dawes Co., Neb. "I took medicine, but did not seem to gain very much. I was tired all the time, had no appetite, had wandering pains all over me more or less, and was very nervous, as I had been sick all the summer. I was all run-down and didn't know what ailed me. I got advice from Dr. Pierce, telling me my symptoms better than I could describe them myself, and also telling me that I would have to take care of myself, and how to take the medicines. I took four bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and five of 'Favorite Prescription,' and gained strength right along. I took one bottle of the 'Pleasant Pellets,' also. I know that these medicines will do all that they are recommended to do."

Use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for sluggish liver.

THE CITY OF THE DEAD.

CHARLES CAMP TARELLI.

They do neither plight nor wed
In the city of the dead,
In the city where they sleep away the hours;
But they lie, while o'er them range
Winter blight and summer change,
And a hundred happy whisperings of flowers.
No, they neither wed nor plight,
And the day its like the night,
For their vision is of other kind than ours.

They do neither sing nor sigh
In the burg of by-and-by;
Where the streets have grass, growing cool and long;
But they rest within their bed,
Leaving all their thoughts unsaid.
Deeming silence better far than sob or song.
Nor they neither sigh nor sing,
Though the robbin be awing,
Though the leaves of autumn march a million strong.

There is only rest and peace
In the city of surcease.
From the failings and the wailings 'neath the sun.
And the wing of the swift years
Beat but gently o'er the biers,
Making music to the sleepers every one.
There is only peace and rest,
But to them it seemeth best,
For they lie at ease and know that life is done.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Columbus News: Mr. Willie Pierce, an employe of the Cape Fear Lumber Co., was killed at the siding five miles below here last Tuesday. In some way the ropes on which the skidder rolled broke and it fell on Mr. Pierce, killing him instantly.

— Sanford Express: D. E. McIver, Esq., G. H. Makepeace and others, spoke a Popular Springs school house last Saturday afternoon on the Constitutional Amendment. Mr. Makepeace is one of the leading Republicans of this section, yet like Mr. Perry and other prominent Republicans, he has come out for the Amendment and proposes to support this all important measure at the coming election. Mr. Makepeace made a good speech in favor of the Amendment. It has been highly spoken of by some of those who were present and heard it and will no doubt accomplish much good.

— Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer: Capt. C. E. Braswell died at his late home in McFarlan late Saturday morning, aged 60 years. He had been in failing health since about the first of the year, with dropsy. Capt. Braswell was a veteran of the late war, and was a most gallant soldier. —— Rev. John R. Fisher, colored, who has been wanted by the authorities of this county for two years, was arrested early last Sunday morning at Morven. Fisher remarked to Mr. C. C. Moore, before whom he was carried, that "it was very hard on him, as the Sunday before he had baptized five converts and this Sunday he was in the hands of the sheriff." He was required to give a bond of $100 for his appearance at the September term of court.

— Monroe Enquirer: Mr. Philip Helms, of West Monroe township, died on Tuesday, June 12th, of bronchitis, after being confined to his bed for several weeks. He was 58 years old. —— A man living in West Monroe township has a novel way of side harrowing cotton. He hitched a horse to a road cart, fastened two side harrows to it, and had two boys to manipulate the side harrows while he sat in the cart and did the driving act. ——Joe Hill, a negro who escaped from the chain gang about three years ago, was conveyed back last Monday and is serving his time on the gang again. He had been in Gaston county. He has yet sixty-five days to serve on the gang. —— Some excitement was caused last Monday afternoon by the report of two young ladies that they had, while picking dewberries in an old field northeast of the city, found a white baby, apparently about a week old, lying under a bush. They came to town and reported their discovery, and Mr. Ellis Simpson and another man went out to bring the waif in, but when they arrived at the place where the child had been found by the women it had been removed. The women report that the child was lying on the bare ground and had no covering except a thin calico dress. The child was alive.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. L. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's News Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong, I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle 10c. at R. R. BELAMY's, Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed. †

CATARRH OF THE PELVIC ORGANS.

The Reason Why So Many Women Are Sick.

Mrs. Eliza Wike, 190 Iron St., Akron, O.

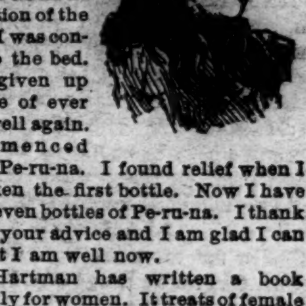

Mrs. Eliza Wike says: "I would be in my grave now if it had not been for your God-sent remedy, Pe-ru-na. Everybody says I am looking so much better. No doctor could help me as Pe-ru-na did. I was a broken-down woman. It is now seven years past that I was cured."

Mrs. Sarah Gallitz, of Luton, Ia., also writes: "I was suffering with the change of life. I had spells of flowing every two or three weeks, which would leave me nearly dead. I had given up hope of being cured, when I heard of Dr. Hartman's remedies and began to use them. I am entirely cured, and give all the credit to Pe-ru-na."

But comparatively few women who are suffering with pelvic catarrh know that this is the case. Their trouble is called dyspepsia, heart trouble, female weakness, weak lungs, nervous debility; indeed, almost the whole category of medical terms has been applied to catarrh of some organ of the female anatomy. If these women could only realize that their trouble is probably catarrh of the organs peculiar to women or pelvic organs, and cure themselves with Pe-ru-na, how much unnecessary suffering would be saved.

Mrs. Karolina Suter, 2138 Vine street, Cincinnati, O., says: "Two years ago I fell on the ice. At first I did not think that I had hurt myself; but several months after I felt pains in the abdomen, and a little later my menses failed to appear. I wrote to you in regard to it, hearing that you cured female troubles, and followed your directions. I took Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin. I now have the best of health.

Mrs. Marie Hansen, of Niebull, Wis., writes: "About two years ago I had disease of the kidneys and womb. I was in a weak, nervous condition and began to have dreadful palpitation of the heart. I was confined to the bed. I had given up all hope of ever being well again. I commenced taking Pe-ru-na. I found relief when I had taken the first bottle. Now I have taken seven bottles of Pe-ru-na. I thank you for your advice and I am glad I can say that I am well now.

Dr. Hartman has written a book especially for women. It treats of female catarrh in all its different phases and stages. It contains common sense talks on subjects which should interest every A book will be sent free to any woman. Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The market for cotton futures opened easy in tone with prices one to three points lower and further sold off later under pressure from bulls and bears who were influenced by good weather reports, a friendly Chronicle statement of the week's developments in the belt, and disappointing English cables. Absence of speculative support added to the irregularity as did a rumor that cloth markets were stupidly dull and tended lower. After the first burst of trading business settled down to a professional week end settlement of accounts and prices varied but little from the early decline. Sentiment was not over decided, though rather inclined to the bear side under encouraging weather predictions and good crop reports from Texas. The foreign element took an indifferent part in forenoon operations on the local exchange and influential interests which had figured so prominently during the forepart of the week, failed to appear as traders. Much of the cotton sold comprised holdings piled up early in the week on the belief that a strong New Orleans "clique" was going to push July and August to 9 cents. The bears were disposed to be conservative and extended commitments with great caution.

MOMENTS OF DANGER

CRUCIAL SECONDS IN THE LIVES OF ENGINEERS.

Just What They Do, or Should Do, In Cases of Peril on the Rails—Few Have Been Found Wanting When the Emergency Came.

To the engineer belongs the most hazardous and at the same time the most responsible task of any of the men who run the train, and the passengers on one of the great fliers as they loll back in their seats reading the most recent work of fiction or gazing placidly forth at the scenery scarcely ever give a thought to the fact that ahead of them is a dust and oil begrimed man who, for the time being, literally carries their lives in the hollow of his sweaty hand. It is extraordinary how few cases there are where engineers have been found derelict in the moment of trial. There have been innumerable wrecks since railroads were first introduced into the country, but the record of the number of engineers who have failed when the crucial test came is infinitesimal.

When once danger appears in front, an engineer's duty is, first, to close the throttle; second, to apply the airbrakes; third, to reverse the engine—that is, to throw over the reversing lever, which enables the engine to run in the opposite direction from which it had been going; fourth, to reopen the throttle. To do these four acts calls for but a small fraction of time, but where wrecks result the danger is usually so imminent as frequently not to leave even sufficient interval to accomplish them, and often when the ruins have been cleared away the body of the faithful guardian has been discovered with his hand stiff in death on the throttle, reverse lever or brake, and bearing silent witness as to how far he had got toward the accomplishment of that duty which he had yielded his life to perform.

Many engineers are reckless and will take awful chances. At one time a certain driver was taking through a special train consisting of four empty freight cars and a caboose. The station master told him that the down train was a trifle late and due at the next station beyond, seven miles away, at 2:37 o'clock. Glancing at his watch, the engineer said he had nine minutes and decided to take the chance. He had to cross a bridge just beyond the town he was leaving, and midway across he began to increase his speed. As the engine struck ground again on the other side and they headed straight up the river's valley he threw her wide open and gave his engine every ounce of steam there was in the boiler. Three miles farther on, when running to the limit of his capacity, he struck the down train head on. Both engineers and firemen were killed outright, and the engines reduced to a condition that rendered them only fit for the scrap heaps.

Strange to say, no passengers or other members of either crew were killed outright or afterward died as the result of injuries received. Only the shoulders and head of the fireman of the special were ever found. He had been driven into the door of the fire box feet first, but had stuck at the shoulders. The white hot fire within had completely incinerated the rest of his body. To look at the door of a fire box such a casualty as that seems all but impossible, the opening looks so small. In reality, however, it is large enough, as any railroad man can tell you.

The watch of the engineer of the special when found was still running and was four minutes behind. It was to this error of his timepiece that the tragic death of himself and his three companions was due.

In daylight it is the habit of the engineer to follow with the eye the glistening track of rails over which he must travel. Should a rail be misplaced, it would break this line of light and betray itself to the watchful man in time to stop and save his train. This particular wreck, however, resulted from that curse and dread of all railroad runners—the washout. The culvert which caused it was a short one, its width being hardly greater than the combined length of engine and tender. The masonry had been carried away; but, the fishplates and spikes holding firm, the rails still crossed the gully. This held the rail line of light true and in consequence the engineer was well up to the danger before he realized it. He was able to stop the train, but to do so had to go into the ditch himself, although fortunately he did not lose his life.

He was washed out of his cab window by the flood. His jumper catching over a stone, the train newsboy fortunately found him in time to save him from death by drowning. So close a thing was it that when the train came to a full stop the front wheels of the forward truck of the baggage car were hanging over the opening made by the washout. No one was injured save the engineer, who escaped with a couple of broken ribs and a dislocated shoulder. He completely recovered, however, and is one of the most trusted engineers on that particular line to this city.

A rather amusing thing occurred in connection with this wreck. There was little coal in the tender, what was left being in the rear end, and the fireman had gone back to shovel it forward. The impetus of the engine caused it to jump clear across the gully and stick its nose in the opposite bank. The rear part, being the heavier, dropped first, carrying the forward part of the tender with it, causing tender and engine to shut up like a jackknife. The fireman was tossed clean over the engine and alighted uninjured on the track beyond the washout.

He was a lanky, six foot Irishman, with carroty hair and the brogue still strong upon him. In telling of his experience afterward he said:

"Sure, it was a quare expayrience there was. I one minit stooping wid me shovel over the coal hape and the next minit there was I and me shovel and the coal all flying troo de air, and each trying to see who would get there first. Glory be that I was not hurt at all, at all. It's a brave man is Moike (the engineer), fine, big, brave man, sor. The last thing he said was— What do you think it was, sor, and him expecting to die the next minit, at that, sor? Widout turning his head he yells out to me, 'Jump, you red-headed scoundrel!' he yells, and while I didn't have no toime to do as he tould me, I take it very koindly that he thought of me as he did." The tears stood in the honest fellow's eyes as he told the story. —New York Tribune.

A King's Bones Missing.

The tomb of Lunalilo, the "Barefoot King of Hawaii," was recently opened, and it was found that the remains had been removed and that the metal casket contained only portions of the grave-clothes. As the tomb is in the churchyard of Kawaiahou church, the oldest native church in the islands and situated almost in the center of Honolulu, the discovery of the removal of the body of the famous king created no small sensation. No one could say when the act of vandalism was committed. Lunalilo was elected king in 1873, but 13 months afterward died of consumption. Although he possessed a large fortune, he insisted on going about the streets barefooted at all times. By his will, which was not opened until 1881, he left his entire fortune to found a home for aged Hawaiians, which stands today a monument to his generosity.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Staid the Uplifted Hand.

The old man was about to bring the shingle down where it would do the most good when the boy interrupted to make one last plea.

"You've always said, father," he urged, "that your school days were the happiest memories of your life."

"Quite true," admitted the man.

"And when I've heard you recalling those memories with some of your old cronies," persisted the boy, "you've always dwelt especially upon scrapes you were in and the tricks you played upon your teachers."

"Um, yes; maybe so. What of it?"

"Well, I haven't been doing a thing but store up pleasant memories for my old age."

And the shingle's fall was staid.—Chicago Post.

A Canadian Custom Which Greatly Puzzles American Horsemen.

"Though I knew from experience that keeping to the left was the rule of the road in England," observed a well known horseman to a Star reporter, "I did not know that rule prevailed in Canada until the week before last, when I took a short drive on the outskirts of Toronto. I have been a horseman for many years and know the rules of the road pretty well, but I had considerable difficulty to keep out of trouble there, I assure you.

"A friend loaned me a nice turnout, which had rather a free stepper in the harness. At the first turn out I naturally turned to the right in passing. The man I met was pretty well fixed also in the way of a horse, and the first thing I knew we came together in splash bang style, the result of it being that I lost a wheel and got pitched out into the road. I supposed of course that he would turn to the right, and he supposed for similar reasons—for he thought from the kind of horse that I was driving that I knew what I was about—that I would turn to the left. Mutual explanations followed, but I was the loser in the transaction, for I felt obliged to have the mishap fixed up at my expense.

"An American driving in Canada is as a consequence in one continual worry, for it matters not how clever one is with the reins it is extremely hard to unlearn the rule which obtains in this country of keeping to the right. The Canadians have an argument to prove that they are right in the matter and that keeping to the left is much safer in the way of preventing collisions on the road, but I could not understand it, and three days later I had a similar trouble happen in Quebec, though in that case it was the other team that got the worst of it. Still it was just as annoying to me, though not as expensive. It is the same thing with foot passengers and bicycles, and the American wheelmen have a hard time in consequence of it, collisions being frequent and in some instances very dangerous. The Canadians may be right about it; but, just the same, no American can ever get it in his head thoroughly that they are. The Canadians drive from the right side of the team, as we do, and the whip socket is on the right, but all the rest of it is to the left."—Washington Star.

BILL OF DAMAGES AGAINST THE CHINESE.

Strong Demand for Indemnity Will Be Made by the United States Government When Order is Restored.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—It is said that the operations of the Boxers are rolling up a heavy bill of damages against the Chinese government and that this will be made the subject of a strong demand for indemnity by the United States as soon as order is restored in China. It is held that under the terms of our treaty with China, not only are American missionaries entitled to the protection of the Chinese government, but even their native converts. According to the doctrine that we have laid down in the case of the Turkish missionary claims, the Chinese government can be held responsible for outrages committed against American citizens, even in times of rioting, if the government troops, its agents, fail to respond to call or participate themselves in the rioting. This is said to be the case with the Boxer disturbances. The particular treaty covering the cases of the American missionaries and the native converts is unique. It is contained in Article 29 of the treaty of 1858, as follows:

"The practice of the Christian religion, as professed by the Protestant and Roman Catholic churches, is recognized as teaching them to do good, and to do to others as they would others should do unto them. Hereafter those who quietly profess and teach these doctrines shall not be harrassed or persecuted, on account of their faith. Any person, whether a citizen of the United States, or Chinese converts, who according to these tenets, peaceably teach and practice the principles of Christianity, shall in no case be interfered with or molested."

ST. LOUIS STRIKE TROUBLE.

No Agreement With the Transit Company—A Boycott to Be Declared and the War Continued.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—"War to the knife" was the slogan adopted by the striking employes of the St. Louis Transit Company to-day. This extreme action was decided this afternoon when the proposition adopted by the striking street car men yesterday looking to a settlement of the strike was turned down by the Transit Company.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced that negotiations between the St. Louis Transit Company and the Union, looking to a settlement of the strike on the basis proposed by the Union in mass meeting Friday, were off.

This announcement was made at the conclusion of a conference between Gompers, representing the union and President Edward Whitaker and Director C. D. McClure, representing the Transit Company. Mr. Whitaker said at the conclusion of the conference that he had no statement to make. President Gomers made this statement regarding the failure to reach an agreement:

"After three hours and a half discussion with President Whitaker I am sorry to have to announce that the company has declined to submit the question of reinstatement of the men to arbitration."

President Mahon of the International Association of Amalgmated Street Railway Employes, when asked what his association would do in the crisis said:

"This is now a fight to the finish. President Gompers told me this afternoon that he proposes to turn the entire power of the American Federation of Labor, with its membership of two million, against the Transit Company and fight the issue out, if it takes five years to do it.

The American Federation of Labor regards the attitude of the St. Louis Transit Company as a direct stab at the vital principles of unionism.

The boycott to be declared will apply not only the St. Louis Transit Company, but to every person, every business man, every association and in fact every corporation or individual favoring them in anyway."

THE POWERS NEGOTIATING.

France Active in Efforts to Prevent a General International Disturbance Over Chinese Trouble.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—It is learned in authoritative quarters that negotiations relative to the Chinese crisis have led to a discussion of the larger subject of so adjusting and harmonizing the action of the several powers interested as to maintain complete equilibrium and assure the continued peace of the world. The French authorities have been particularly active in urging that one of the first considerations of any action was to see that it tended towards maintaining the balance between the countries interested in the East and there is reason to believe that these representations have had considerable influence in keeping any one of the several nations from putting a preponderating military force in China, thus leading to counter action by some other power and ultimately to a general international disturbance. From the French standpoint, as stated by those fully conversant with French policy, the chief desire is to maintain peace and union between the great powers, and if that can be accomplished France will consider that her best interests, as well as those of the world at large, will have been served.

SEYMOUR'S FORCE IN A TIGHT PLACE.

An Enormous Mass of Chinese Soldiers on Their Front and Boxers in Their Rear.

ALL COMMUNICATIONS CUT.

Alarming Reports from Pekin—Churches and Residences of Foreigners at Tien Tsin Destroyed—Reinforcements from the Powers.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, June 17, 4 A. M.—There is no confirmation of the reported destruction of the legations in Pekin and the killing of the German minister Baron von Ketteler, nor the later report of fighting between the British and Chinese. Dispatches from Shanghai, dated last evening, stated that Admiral Seymour's force was in a tight place between Taing Fang and Yung Sung, with enormous masses of soldiery in front, while the Boxers, with more soldiery, are cutting the railway in the rear. The column is reported short of provisions and water. The Kiang Nan arsenal, outside of Shanghai, is sending vast quantities of munitions north.

All is quiet at Shanghai, but trade has been disrupted. It is stated that seven thousand Americans are coming from Manila and large forces of Japanese are also en route. The wires south of Tien Tsin have been cut and the city telegraphically is isolated.

According to a special from Vienna it is stated in diplomatic circles there that the question of intervention is under discussion by the powers. It is proposed that Japan shall act as mandatory of the powers and re-establish order in Pekin and elsewhere. This, it is said, emenates from England, and is supported by Germany and Austria; but it is doubtful if Russia and France will agree to the proposition.

St. Petersburg reports that communication between Kal Gan and Pekin has been interrupted. There is great excitement at Kal Gan.

Churches at Tien Tsin Burned.

SHANGHAI, June 16.—Advices from Tien Tsin report that large incendiary fires occurred in the eastern part of the city, where three English and American churches were burned, besides residences of many foreigners. Telegraphic communication is interrupted, the poles having been burned and there is no hope of immediate repairs being made.

The train conveying the relieving party with food and ammunition was obliged to return, being unable to reach Lang Fang, where detachments of foreign troops, dispatched on Sunday last, are now endeavoring to repair the line.

Joined the Boxers.

SHANGHAI, June 16.—According to information received here from foreign sources, 10,000 Imperial troops, which were between Pekin and the international forces, advancing on that city, have disbanded and joined the Boxers.

It is asserted that the government of China does not consider it is responsible for any encounter which may take place.

The native banks of Chin Kiang closed business yesterday, fearing trouble from the Boxers.

Excitement prevails in the Yang Tse valley, but all is quiet at Che Foo, in spite of alarming rumors to the contrary.

Legations Destroyed.

LONDON, June 16, 4 P. M.—A special dispatch from Hon. Kong says all the foreign legations in Pekin have been destroyed and that the German Minister, Baron Von Ketteler has been killed.

HONG KONG, June 16.—The British cruiser Terrible, with troops, sailed for Tien Tsin this morning. Captain Perry M. Scott, of the Terrible, previous to sailing arranged to land a 12-pounder and other ship guns for land service.

The British first class armored cruiser Undaunted has suddenly been ordered north under sealed orders. She will sail immediately. Trouble is brewing near West river. Riots have broken out at Tun Chow, whence over a hundred refugees arrived at Wu Chow, June 12.

About five thousand rebels have assembled at Kwei Li Sien. Bodies of Canton troops passed through Wu Chow June 11th on their way to meet the rebels.

PARIS, June 16.—The Foreign Office views skeptically the dispatch from Hong Kong announcing the destruction of the foreign legations at Pekin and points out that as telegraphic communications with Pekin are cut, the news should be taken with prudence.

The Telegraph Service.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The Commercial Cable Company sends out the following notice:

"The Siberian land lines are restored and messages for Japan, routed via Northern, are now accepted without restriction. The lines between Maimatchim and Kalgan, China, are interrupted.

"We are advised that telegraphic communication with Tien Tsin is totally interrupted."

The Western Union Cable Company issues the following:

"Telegraphic communication with Tien Tsin is interrupted."

The Central Cable office of the Western Union telegraph office at noon to-day sent out the following notice:

"In connection with this morning's bulletin reporting the interruption of the Tien Tsin telegraph lines, we have been advised by the Great Northern that there is no prospect of restoration of the Pekin-Tien Tsin lines. The Shanghai-Tien Tsin line is totally interrupted beyond Baudano, near Tien Tsin, cutting off communication to Tien Tsin, Taku and other stations in the North. The above mentioned places are entirely cut off from telegraphic communication and messages can only be forwarded at sender's risk."

As Viewed in Paris.

PARIS, June 16.—News of the fighting between the international troops and the Boxers have enhanced the interest in the situation in China which is forming the leading feature of all the newspapers. The diplomatic world is naturally very much stirred, especially owing to the contradictory reports regarding the attitude taken by the Empress Dowager. Even the Japanese and Chinese legations appear doubtful as to the exact condition of affairs. At the Chinese legation considerable uneasiness prevails. The explanation given by the officials there is that the Boxers are simply outlaws who receive no countenance from the government and are ill-treating their own countrymen as well as the foreigners. Members of the legation whose constant intercourse with Europeans has brought them more into line with Western ideas, admit, guardedly, that there is room there for beneficial reforms, but they are far from pleased at the recent developments, which have given Russia an opportunity to play what will probably eventually become a predominating part in the much feared European intervention.

A man who is entitled to speak with authority on Chinese matters, M. Gabrielle La Maire, for eight years French minister at Pekin, expresses a pessimistic feeling regarding the extension of the anti-foreign sentiment. "For Europeans," says M. La Maire, "the present crisis is the gravest that has yet occurred. It appears to me that the Dowager Empress at the present moment is under the influence of a powerful coalition of literateurs, comprising all the influential mandarins at court, who feel that their former omnipotence has been shaken by the invasion of the products of Western science, such as the telegraph and railroad. This coalition has frightened the Empress by dwelling on the importance of the concessions made to foreigners as threatening the integrity of the empire. The present movement is a veritable crusade against Western civilization, in which the Dowager Empress is an accomplice. The Boxers are the tools which are being used against foreigners—to be repudiated should matters not rise as it is hoped they will. The return of the Dowager Empress and court to Pekin from the Summer Palace signifies that the Empress and her court are afraid the Boxers will turn against them when they find themselves abandoned by the Empress.

MAY GO TO NEW YORK.

The Nomination for the Vice Presidency on the Republican Ticket.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—During the day the vice presidential question revolved around New York. The position of the State, with four men available for candidate, the feeling in some quarters that political considerations should give the second place on the ticket to the Empire State, and the somewhat strained relations between Senator Hanna and Senator Platt, all serve to turn attention to New York. Of course there is no real breach between Hanna and Platt; only perhaps a little soreness exists.

The New York Senator does not want interference in New York by the chairman of the Republican National Committee. When Bliss was first put forward for the second place it was well known that he was backed by Hanna. Bliss has never been a favorite with Platt, and that was the beginning. There is yet a lingering belief that if New York would come solidly forward for Bliss he could be induced to accept. This, however, is not likely and the belief is general that Platt stands in the way. The allusions which Hanna has made to Lieutenant Governor Woodruff form another source of irritation and probably the manner in which the Ohio Senator received the announcement of O'Dell's candidacy contributed to the unpleasant feeling already engendered between the two leaders.

AN ABSORBING QUESTION.

McKinley's Choice of a Running Mate in the Presidential Contest.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The ante room of the White House to-day resembled the lobby of a hotel in Philadelphia. It fairly swarmed with politicians who had stopped off in Washington on their way to the convention to see the President and assure him of their unswerving devotion to his cause. The stream of visitors was uninterrupted during the morning. Although among them were not a few of the party leaders, they had little opportunity to converse with the President, and those who did broach the subject of the Vice Presidency—the uppermost topic in the minds of all—got no intimation from Mr. McKinley as to his personal choice, if he has one.

WARM WIRELETS.

The Republican National Committee has selected Senator Wolcott, of Colorado for temporary chairman of the convention.

John R. McLean, of Ohio, with his wife and son, sailed on the Cunard Line steamship Campania yesterday for Liverpool.

The Cunard line steamer Lucania, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday, has on her passenger list the name of Richard Crocker.

A schedule of the assets and liabilities of Price, McCormick and Company will probably be filed by the assignee next week. The liabilities will probably be under $13,000,000.

The tenth annual convention of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers Association closed yesterday at Old Point Comfort. The association chose New Orleans as the next place of meeting.

The War Department received the following cablegram yesterday from General Wood at Havana. "Elections in Havana progressing quietly without slightest disorder. No reports of disorder or trouble anywhere in the island thus far."

Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, announces himself as favorable to the candidacy of Irvin Scott, of California, for the vice presidency. Mr. Wolcott said that he was not himself a candidate for a place on the ticket and would not be.

All railroad and steamship companies at San Francisco have been notified by the Federal authorities at Washington that Asiatics will not be allowed to leave California unless provided with a health certificate issued by the United States Marine Hospital officers there.

The weekly bank statement shows the following changes: Surplus reserve, decrease $875,500; loans, increase $3,248,300; specie, decrease $1,335,000; legal tenders, increase $965,700; deposits, increase $2,024,800; circulation, increase $87,800. The banks now hold $17,498,750 in excess of the requirements of the 25 per cent. rule.

Mrs. Anna Sphuler, wife a former prominent physician, at New Orleans, shot and fatally wounded a laborer naned James Carver, who had been employed by deputy constables to aid in enforcing a writ of ejectment. Carver was breaking open the door of Mrs. Sphuler's room when the woman fired.

THE SITUATION IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Rumored That Negotiations Are on Foot for Surrender of Boer Leaders.

FORCES STILL SKIRMISHING.

British Reports of Successes—Natal Said to Be Free of the Enemy—Activity of Steyn's Troops in Orange Free State.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, June 16.—There is no news reported from the seat of war in South Africa, where the British forces are continuing to clear off the Boers on their front, or are holding in check those threatening the rear of Schopenock. General Rundle's line at Senekal and Fricksburg is almost invulnerable.

The Boers attacked Ficksburg this morning, but were driven off. President Steyn of the Orange Free State is trying to encourage the burghers. General Dewet is trekking, north of Bloemfontein.

In an attack on the railroad pioneers near Zand river to day the Boers were driven off. Major Seymour was killed. He was an American and was formerly employed in the rand.

Rumors of Surrender.

LONDON, June 16, 5.50 P. M.—A rumor is rife in the city that Lord Roberts is negotiating with President Kruger and General Botha, through their wives, regarding terms of surrender.

The War Office has received the following message from Lord Roberts:

"Pretoria, June 16.—Rustenburg was occupied yesterday by Baden-Powell. A column starts from this place to-morrow to meet Baden-Powell and repair the telegraph between Pretoria and Rustenburg.

"Hunter is moving from Potchefstroom. His advance brigade expects to reach Johannesburg, June 19th.

"Buller, I hope, is at Standerton. Heidelburg will be occupied from this place shortly, and the Orange River colony will be completely

Cut Off From the Transvaal.

"Baden Powell reports that the district through which he passed is settling down satisfactorily. Over one thousand stand of arms were surrendered and Hans Eloff and Piet Kruger, son of the President, were to make submission to him yesterday, having been previously disarmed on their farms.

"Botha's army has retired and is believed to be at Middleburg. His rear guard was surprised and entirely routed by Ian Hamilton's mounted infantry."

The War Office has received the following from General Buller:

"Laings Nek, June 15.—Now that Natal is clear of the enemy I wish to call attention to the disgraceful way in which private property was treated in the part of the colony they occupied. Their wilful and needless damage is visible everywhere and houses, when not completely wrecked, have been desecrated with filthy ingenuity. That this has been done with the consent of the leaders is proved by the fact that while in Charlestown every house was wrecked in Volksrust every house was intact."

No Advices From Conger.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Not a word of news came to the State Department over night from Minister Conger, who has now been cut off from communication since last Tuesday. Even the U. S. consuls in North China ports are silent. Admiral Kempff has not been heard from since yesterday. This absence of official reports has given rise to grave apprehension here. It was expected that there might be delay in hearing from Conger, but in the case of Admiral Kempff an early report was looked for, and it is feared that the officers of the foreign fleet at Taku have been prevented from reaching the cable station there, either by open hostility of the Boxers, or by the sinister orders from the Chinese government.

Yesterday Admiral Kempff was called upon by direction of the President for an explicit statement of the situation and his needs. It was for him to say whether he required reinforcements and troops. If he is cut off from reply, then the government must act without waiting much longer. Of course, in that event, it would have to proceed upon the theory that additional force, both ships and troops, perhaps, is needed.

CONDEMN McKINLEY.

Negro Baptist Missionary Convention at Plainfield, N. J.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Resolutions vigorously condemning President McKinley and the present administration at Washington were passed to day by the New England Baptist Missionary Convention, composed of 400 delegates, mostly colored ministers, which is in session in Plainfield, N. J.

The resolutions came up in the report of the committee on field work. They condemned the administration for doing nothing to protect the negroes at Lake City, S. C. The Philippine war was denounced as an unrighteous fight against a people struggling for their independence and freedom, and the treatment of the colored soldiers was condemned.

MORE TROUBLE FOR ENGLAND.

Native Rising in Gambia Colony, West Africa—Commissioners Murdered.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BATHURST, GAMBIA COLONY, WEST AFRICA, June 16.—A native rising has occurred in the Gambia colony, and two British commissioners and six members of the police force have been killed at Sankandi, on the south bank of the Gambia river, by Mandingoes. The party had gone to Sankandi to settle a question of local administration, when the Mandingoes suddenly attacked and murdered them. Mr. Cecil Stiwell, one of the murdered commissioners, was formerly an official in the Windward Islands.

THE AMERICAN CONTINGENT.

Forces Will Be Sent from Manila to Tien Tsin Unless Admiral Kempff is Heard from by Monday.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Unless telegraphic communication with Admiral Kempff is restored speedily a fast vessel will be ordered to proceed from Manila to Taku for news. Secretaries Hay and Root held a conference to-day with the President regarding the sending of troops to China.

After the conference Secretaries Hay and Root said they had received no official confirmation of the burning of the legations in Pekin.

The conclusion reached at the conference was that if communication with Kempff is not re established within a reasonable time forces will be dispatched from Manila to reinforce the American contingent. Preliminary inquiries are being made to see what can be done in the way of preparing an expedition.

An inquiry as to what constituted reasonable time failed to secure a definite answer, but the impression was conveyed that unless Kempff is heard from by Monday troops or a naval contingent will be dispatched from Manila.

FRICTION IN KANSAS CITY.

Citizens Displeased at Request for Tickets to Convention Being Refused.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

KANSAS CITY, MO., June 16.—C. A. Walsh, secretary of the Democratic National Committee, left to night for Chicago to complete some unfinished work in the headquarters there before opening his permanent headquarters in Kansas City. Mr. Walsh will return to Kansas City on the 20th.

It developed to day that considerable friction was displayed in yesterday's meeting of the sub-committee when the local managers requested three hundred admission tickets for Kansas City. Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the National Committee, said that he did not think Kansas City was entitled to any tickets. The honor of securing the convention, he thought, should be sufficient. J. G. Johnson, national committeeman from Kansas, took the same view. The Kansas Cityans then entered a vigorous protest. Finally, as a compromise, the sub-committee offered the Kansas City committee 200 tickets. This was immediately declined.

SHERIFF TOOK POSSESSION.

Republican State Treasurer of Kentucky Refused to Surrender His Office.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FRANKFORT, KY., June 16.—The office of State Treasurer is in the custody of the sheriff to-night. The transfer of all the State officers from the Republican to the Democratic officials except the Treasurer's office, was made yesterday in compliance with the decision of the Court of Appeals. Assistant Treasurer Long said he had received no authority from Former Treasurer Day to turn over that office and he declined to let Democratic Treasurer Hager in. Hager took out a writ of possession in Judge Moore's court and the sheriff took possession of the office.

NATIONAL NEGRO PARTY.

Booker T. Washington's Advice to the Colored People.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 16.—Booker T. Washington passed through here to-day en route to Cincinnati. In reference to the organization of a National Negro Party he said:

"A colored man's party would go forth with a chip on its shoulder, and what we want is peace with the white man and not war.

"Let the colored people devote their attention to census enumerators who are now among them. Let us have more to tell the census enumerator and less to tell the politician."
